Ieki Gets a Hair Cut With a Rifle Ball.

Ieki, one of the guards at the Oahu jail has very recently adopted the habit of wearing his hair parted in the middle and the manner of the change is as follows: Ieki and several other guards at the jail went out to the Iwilei butts yesterday morning for a little rifle practice. Ieki was unanimously elected marker and the fun began. By and by Ieki thought his friends had perhaps gone to seek refreshments or something of the kind for there seemed to be rather an unusual lull in the firing. He poked his head from behind the bulkhead just in time to get in the way of a ball from Charles Kealoha's rifle and not only was Ieki's hat punctured but a line of hair was lifted from his skull. Ieki was a very scared man and won't play hide and seek with bullets any more.

ASSAILANTS PUNISHED.

Chinamen Who Drew Blood in Manoa Valley Fined.

Six Chinese were up for trial in the District Court yesterday afternoon charged with assault with deadly weapons. Three of the Orientals were found guilty and fined $50 each by Judge Wilcox. The occasion on which the blood-thirsty Mongolians gave cause for the punishment inflicted was a fight over "water rights" in Manoa valley on Wednesday, April 4. The story of the conflict was published in the Advertiser on the following day. Several Chinese attempted to steal a neighboring Chinese's water rights. This brought about a fight in which many took part on both sides and used all kinds of weapons.

One Chinese was struck a serious blow on the top of the head, the scalp being laid open by a plantation mattock. The police were called, a conveyance was secured and the wounded man taken to the Police Station from which he was later removed to the Queen's hospital.
